

CUT NUMBERS

Nick Tosches

Recipe: milk-fed lamb with garlic and wine

As Cut Numbers unravels a diabolically elaborated scheme to fix New York State's lottery, it reveals the Mafia that only insiders know - not the powerful, well-oiled crime machine of myth, but the messy day-to-day business of violent crime, pornography, gambling, and extortion.

LA CAME À NOUS AUTRES

Emmanuel Errer

Recipe: pizza crust

Esope was not really a villain, but a bit of a gangster and a pimp, yes. But above all, he was a patriot and a passionate supporter of Nice football club, his host city. Moreover, when the Americans tried to push him into the drug business, his friends let him down because he had refused. This is Esope a hundred percent. He killed some of them but for good reasons! And that's why we wouldn't be surprised if he became a deputy.

PARIS DROP

Alan Furst

Recipe: Lyon style sausage in a brioche crust

When you're a kind of a lazy American-guy, who's responsible for a very special mission: convoying to Paris some cash and particularly a mysterious ring as fake as a chocolate medal, it's better to be armed. And Roger Levin is armed: He is a Jewish, a New-Yorker, and he has a sense of humour. What about girls? Each one of them ends up in his arms, but sometimes, in poor conditions, or simply...simply dead.

TITRES D'OUVRAGES EN FRANÇAIS

La religion des ratés : Nick Tosches

La came à nous autres : Emmanuel Errer

Le cimetière de ceinture : Alan Furst

Stictement confidential : D. Henderson Clarke

Agence Black Bafoussa : Achille F. Ngoye

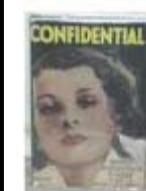

La sauterelle et le dirigeable : Walter Wagner

Implants d'enfer : Tony Kenrick

Le grand môme : A .D.G.

Charade pour écroulés : Raymond Chandler

Le produit d'origine : A.B. Guthrie

CONFIDENTIAL

D. Henderson Clarke

Recipe : Soft chocolate cake

A novel filled with beetle-browed mobsters, suave and crooked lawyers, stenographers with legs that would grace a Ziegfeld chorus, dizzy blondes and dizzier hope-heads, and a few honest citizens who refuse to be intimidated by the power of a crime syndicate.

BAILLIF Sébastien

BOYER Bertrand

DERSIGNY Daniel

GITSELS Thomas

LAMEZEC Pierre

LEFEVRE Vincent

RINNETEAU Quentin

ROUX Charles

SANOGO Tenin

SOUMAILA Soilhat

AGENCY BLACK BAFOUSSA

Achille F. Ngoye

Recipe: Thiéboudiène

How was Danga going to take care of his hen and to put palm oil in his leaps of manioc? And why had he been shot in a flat in the suburb of Paris? People are getting suspicious at the "Peupliers". For sure, the clown wasn't all innocent: He was a well-known opponent to Pupu Muntu, the Dictator of Kalina, he had some enemies. First suspect: Jirn Bafoussa, his fellow countryman and friend. Nevertheless, it sounds unbelievable that he killed his friend...

LE GRAND MOME

A.D.G

Recipe: Omelette with cepe mushrooms

That autumn, only leaves were dying in Sologne. The place of old memories rapidly resembles a morgue and the mystery ladies undertaker. But where did this big guy come from, he, who was wandering in the middle of slaughters?

DESIGNATED HITTER

Walter Wagner

Recipe: Chicken Tandoori with curry

Visionaries of extreme right wing, all crazier than the others want to break in the white house and to change life the way they see it. This group of madmen uses machine guns to reach their goal they high-jack planes, steal weapons and launch bombs out from airship. Victory is getting closer, but death even closer.

PLAY BACK

Raymond Chandler

Recipe: Pâté in a pastry crust

Betty was sitting next to me on the front seat; she was looking straight ahead, saying nothing. She couldn't see the fog, nor the back of the truck we were overtaking. She didn't see anything. She was sitting here, like a statue of despair. Like somebody who was lead to death. Or she was the best pretender I had ever met.

BLAST

Tony Kenrick

Recipe: Black Cherry batter-pudding

Chick in Tony Kenrick's Blast, former New York police detective Gene Charter is deliberately sucked into a drama he wants no part of, and ends up fighting to save the life of the woman he loves.

GUENUINE ARTICLE

A.B. Guthrie

Recipe : Crisp biscuits with almonds

Chick Charleston and Jason beard is back, the Sherlock Holmes from Montana and his assistant. This time, they are investigating on the death of an important farmer. But finding the murder of a man that everybody wants to see dead isn't really an easy task.

Polar dans la ville 2008

Recipes taken from novels

TBP1